

Two positions available immediately. (November 21, 2011)

One full time Large Animal (LA) and one full time Mixed Animal (MX) veterinarian wanted.

Experience preferred but very qualified recent graduates will be considered. All LA only candidates must be fully competent in dairy medicine, surgery, obstetrics, and reproduction (including good palpation skills and expertise with use of ultrasound for repro exams). LA candidates must also be at least comfortable and willing to work with backyard horses and small ruminants and alpacas.

All MX candidates must be fully competent in dairy medicine, surgery, obstetrics, and reproduction (including good palpation skills and expertise with use of ultrasound for repro exams). MX candidates must also be at least comfortable and willing to work with backyard horses and small ruminants and alpacas.

MX candidates must also be fully competent in SA internal medicine; SA surgical skills are appreciated but are not required. The amount of time divided between SA and LA can be adjusted depending on the MX candidate's skill set and interests. For example, a MX candidate fully qualified to handle LA emergencies but who primarily prefers to do SA work will be considered equally with one who primarily prefers LA work but can be happy doing at least a small amount of SA work.

Salary is negotiable based upon experience. We offer a competitive salary, 401K PROFIT SHARING retirement plan, which means we contribute to your plan even if you opt not to contribute yourself. Additionally, we offer health insurance, 2 weeks paid vacation, malpractice liability insurance, 3 paid CE days and a paid CE stipend.

The practice has 2 Easi-Scan portable ultrasound units, 2 laptops with Intravet Veterinary software, and 2 fully outfitted trucks with Bowie units. We currently use ultrasound for reproductive exams in 90% of our dairy herds and have DAIRY COMP 305 software available in the clinic. The clinic also has in-house IDEXX CBC and serum chemistry machines, a Surgivet anesthetic monitor, 3 gas anesthetic machines that are both ISO and SEVO capable, an Aloca 500 ultrasound machine, endoscope, IV pumps, and on-line access to VIN.

At full staffing we have 4 veterinarians, and 7 non-veterinarian staff members, including 4 licensed veterinary technicians. One of our veterinarians is fluent in Spanish. Each day 2 veterinarians are on the road doing LA and one is in the clinic doing SA. Each veterinarian works a 4-day week but must share equally in a 4-way, rotating, Saturday morning SA appointment schedule and in a 3-way LA emergency rotation. There is no after-hour SA emergency rotation; all SA emergencies are referred to local emergency clinics.

Our emphasis is on client service. We strive to practice top quality medicine and surgery. We have easy access to both SA and LA specialty referral services when the need arises. Our dairy practice serves mostly regularly scheduled herd health clients varying in size from 60 to 1800 cows. We currently offer bilingual farm employee training. Our equine practice serves primarily backyard and light pleasure horse clients. We are currently seeing, and would like to expand, a growing base of alpaca and small ruminant clients. Our SA practice is currently focused on dogs and cats.

Brookside Veterinary Clinic is located in Auburn, NY, a community of 23,000 people in the Fingerlakes region of central New York State. Our area is one of the highest milk production areas in the state. We are only 35 minutes from Syracuse, a city of roughly 150,000 people, about 70 minutes from Rochester, population roughly 200,000, and 50 minutes from Ithaca, home of Cornell University. The area offers a full spectrum of urban and rural living possibilities. The Fingerlakes are a series of beautiful, glacial lakes offering tremendous recreational opportunities. The hillsides between the lakes provide a home for New York's award winning wineries as well as some of the finest agricultural soils in the state. Our central location provides easy access to the Adirondacks, Canada, and even New York City. We think you'll find this area to be one of the most fun and prettiest places in the country.
